I am a small investor, but I am an investor of hard earned money. I think what the IRS is doing should be against the law. I was always brought up to keep my word, and this national organization is NOT keeping their word. When you agreed to the stipulations and guidelines and people like me invested, how dare you go back on your word!! I am a school teacher of 35+ years. Investing what I did was a risk to say the least, but I did it. I had faith in our country and our IRS. Well, what has happened. I am asking that you stay strong and keep your word. You do not have the right to change AFTER we have already invested. Hoping to hear good news about this! Anonymous
